Mix cold butter and sugars till just combined and no lg chunks are remaining. Add your eggs and vanilla. In a separate bowl, combine your dry ingredients (sift your cocoa powder). Add dry ingredients to your wet, half at a time. Be careful to not over-mix! Add your peppermint chips and chocolate chips. Shape into 4 oz towers (Levain does 6oz but I find 4oz more manageable). Freeze overnight or until solid (around 3 hr). Bake at 350F for 15-20 min.

1 tsp vanilla
1/2 tsp lemon extract
Zest of 2 lemons
12 oz white chocolate chips or chopped white chocolate

Combine the sugars and lemon zest. Rub together with your fingers until fragrant. This helps release the oils from the zest and intensifies the lemon flavor.

Add the cold cubed butter and mix until just combined. Do not cream.

Add the egg yolks, whole egg, vanilla, and lemon extract. Mix until combined.

In a separate bowl, whisk together the flour, baking powder, salt, baking soda, and cornstarch.

Add the dry ingredients to the wet ingredients and mix until just barely combined.

300g (2.5c) AP flour
200g (2.5c) quick cooking oats (could use old fashioned)
8g (2 tsp) baking powder
6g (1 tsp) baking soda
4g (1 tsp) cornstarch
8g (2 tsp) cinnamon
227g (2 sticks) cold, cubed unsalted butter
200g (1 c, packed) brown sugar
120g (2/3 c) granulated sugar
2 egg yolks (34g)
1 egg
1 tsp vanilla (Mexican vanilla is superior but either works)
10 oz bag peppermint chips (I used @ andesmint's)
5 oz semi-sweet chips

Make 6oz portions - freeze overnight
Bake 350 for 16-20m at 350
Rest 20-30 before eating
