

- Creamy White Beans
- 2 x 400g tin of cannellini beans, drained
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 100g cherry tomatoes
- 400ml vegetable stock
- 1 tsp thyme
- 1 tsp rosemary
- 1 tsp basil
- 1 tsp salt
- 1 tsp black pepper
- 20g pecorino cheese
- 1 lemon, zest and juice
- 20g fresh basil
- 2 tbsp soft cheese

Heat your oil in a pan and add the minced garlic, sauteing for 1 min.
Tip in the cherry tomatoes and herbs, and stir together.
Pour in the vegetable stock and cover the pan, leaving it to simmer for 5 min.
Remove the lid, and use the back of your spoon to gently crush the tomatoes.
Tip in the cannellini beans, stir, then add the lemon zest and juice, and grate in the pecorino cheese.

Stir everything together and leave to simmer for 5 - 8 min until the sauce has thickened.
Top with the fresh basil and a lg scoop of soft cheese.
Add more cheese and lemon zest according to your tastes.

Puerto Rican Style Beans
1 med russet or Yukon Gold potato (about 10 oz)
12 green manzanilla olives with pimientos
1 sm yellow onion
1/2 med bunch fresh cilantro
2 cloves garlic
2 Tbl olive oil
2 (about 15-oz) cans red, kidney, or pink beans (do not drain)
1 (8-oz) can tomato sauce
1 c water
1 Tbl sazón seasoning
Kosher salt

Peel and dice 1 med potato (about 1 3/4 c). Coarsely chop 12 green manzanilla olives with pimientos.
Prepare the following, adding each to the same med bowl as you complete it: Finely chop 1 sm yellow onion (about 1 c). Pick the leaves from 1/2 med bunch fresh cilantro until you have 1/2 c, then finely chop. Finely chop 2 garlic cloves.
Heat 2 Tbl olive oil in a med saucepan over med heat until shimmering. Add the onion mixture and cook, stirring occasionally, until the onions are translucent, about 5 min.

Marry Me Beans
2 Tbl olive oil extra virgin
1 med onion finely chopped
3 Tbl tomato paste
1 2 cloves garlic grated
1/2 tsp red pepper flakes adjust for heat
2 cans butter beans 15 oz / 400 g each can drained and rinsed or 3 c / 460 g cooked beans
1 1/2 c vegetable broth low-sodium
1/2 tsp dried oregano
1/2 c sun-dried tomatoes in oil, drained
thinly sliced with scissors is easiest
3 c baby spinach
1/3 c grated parmesan cheese plus more for serving
1/2 c Greek yogurt plain and full-fat for best results
1/2 tsp lemon zest optional
1 handful fresh basil leaves for garnish and aroma
1/2 tsp salt plus more to taste
2 twists black pepper
Soften the Base: Heat 2 Tbl olive oil in a lg skillet over med heat.
Add 1 med onion and saute for 3 min until soft.

Stir in 3 Tbl tomato paste, 1 2 cloves garlic (grated), and 1/2 tsp red pepper flakes. Cook for 1 minute the paste should turn a deep, dark red.
Simmer the Beans: Add 2 cans butter beans (drained), 1/2 tsp salt, and 2 twists black pepper.
Stir to coat them in the red sauce.
Pour in 1 1/2 c vegetable broth and 1/2 tsp dried oregano.
Let it simmer (gentle bubbles) for 5 6 min. The sauce will thicken naturally as the beans release their starch.
Will the Greens: Stir in 1/2 c sun-dried tomatoes and 3 c baby spinach.
Cook for 2 more min until the spinach shrinks down and looks bright green.
Finish and Serve: Turn the heat completely off and move the pan to a cool burner.
Stir in 1/3 c grated parmesan cheese until melted, then fold in the 1/2 c Greek yogurt and 1/2 tsp lemon zest to keep the sauce silky and prevent curdling. Scatter over 1 handful fresh basil leaves and serve immediately with crusty bread.
